

On The Border Mexican Grill & Cantina (Brinker International)

Challenge:

With locations spread across the country, On The Border Mexican Grill & Cantina needed reliable storage units that could be delivered nationally. The structures design needed to fit the restaurant’s architectural style, and be flexible enough to allow for size and spec adjustments by market. Additionally, they needed to remove the storage units that were already in use at select locations.

Solution:

Where necessary, we teamed with local contractors to remove and dispose of existing storage units. Our flexible product design allowed us to adjust to the varying space requirements at the different restaurant locations. Each building shared some common specs, including rodent barrier, ventilation, painted interior shelving and floors, and a customized security door package.
